The 2nd International symposium in Veterinary Science was a great success! I can say that everybody enjoyed all the events prepared by the faculty and staff of Universitas Gadjah Mada (UGM). The topics presented by both the Japanese and Indonesians students and faculty members were very interesting, although I wish there could be more time to attend the oral sessions since some schedules coincided with the poster sessions. The faculty members and students from UGM were very accommodating and we are sincerely grateful. I congratulate all the people behind this year's symposium and I hope that the next year's meeting will also be a huge success!
